Miss Helen Long, second daughter of the Secretary of the Navy, died yesterday at the family home at Hingham, Mass. She has been in ill health for several years, pulmonary trouble having shown itself. which made a residence in Colorado necessary to prolong her life. The change to a dryer climate did help her considerably, but during the past six months her health visibly declined. Two weeks ago she was brought home to Hingham to die amid familiar surroundings. She was a younger daughter by the Secretary's first wife and had just passed her twenty-sixth birthday. The deceased was greatly liked by all with whom she came in contact here. The deli-cate health of Mrs. Long and the fact that the Secretary's oldest daughter was study-ing medicine caused Miss Helen to be the first year of his term of office. She ac-quitted herself charmingly on each occa-sion and in a quiet way thoroughly enjoyed Washington life. She received at the White House during this period also.
